All-time High of 1,880 Pupils In County Schools

An all-time high enrollment in County of Vulcan schools was reached this year, with recently compiled figures showing a total of 1,880 pupils—an increase of 42 over last year.

Enrollment by schools is as follows:

Arrowwood 110, Brant 96, Carmangay 161, Champion 301, Hermon 39, Lomond 188, Milo 214, Mossleigh 147, New Dale 22, Vulcan Elementary 341, Vulcan, Jr.-Sr. High 261.

Heaviest enrollment is in the lower grades, with 193 Grade 1 pupils registered and 182 pupils in Grade 7. In Grade 8 there are 153 pupils in the County, Grade 9 shows 140, Grade 10 has 135 and there are 118 Grade 11 pupils and 75 taking Grade 12.

Grade 12 is being taught at Carmangay, Champion, Lomond, Milo, Mossleigh and Vulcan.

Of the total 1,880 pupils, 1,183 travel to school by van each day. The 19 school buses operated by the County travel a total of 1,261 miles each school-day and transport 412 children. There are 35 contracted buses (owned and operated by private individuals) and these buses travel 2,326 miles daily transporting 771 children. All children are picked up at their door.

The total of 54 school buses travel a grand total of 681,530 miles in a school year.

Subjects Chosen For I.O.O.F. Annual Speaking Competition

The Odd Fellows Pilgrimage for Youth to United Nations, in 1959, has been reported to have been a huge success. About 800 high school boys and girls, with 70 leaders, travelled by bus to the UN headquarters in New York. These came from all over the United States and Canada.

Ten students from Alberta were members of the group. The one from this area was Miss Donna Bittorf, of Milo, who is ready to tell her experiences.

Rules for competing for the 1960 trip are similar to those of previous years.

Students must be at least sixteen years old and not yet eighteen at the first of August, 1960, must be outstanding in scholarship and citizenship, and have at least one more year to attend high school here.

They must compete in a speaking contest, speaking on one of the following subjects, for 10 minutes.

1. Education in self-government in under-developed and emergent

Kindt Completes Steel Mill Survey

At least one aspect of the proposed $120,000,000 steel plant for western Canada has been brought to a conclusion, according to the interests involved in the undertaking.

J. A. Grussett of Calgary, vice-president of West Canadian Collieries Ltd., and president of West Canadian Magnetic Ores, has emphasized in a prepared press statement that "Dr. Lawrence E. Kindt was employed on a temporary basis and solely by Western Magnetic Ores Ltd., to consider certain aspects of that company, which particular matters have been brought to a conclusion."

Dr. Kindt had been retained as economic consultant for the establishment of a steel plant in the west. Sites being considered are Calgary, Edmonton and Regina.

The statement said many interests are involved in the undertaking.

Scholarship For Farm Boys, Girls

Any farm boy or girl of 12 to 18 years of age can win a $300 scholarship by entering a winning essay on the topic, "How we control weed on our farm," advises W. Lobay, Soils and Weed Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Sponsored by the North Central Weed Control Conference this competition is open to entrants from fourteen north-central States and the three prairie provinces. Although competition is keen Albertans have won two scholarships in the last five years.

Farm boys and girls are urged to enter. They should contact their District Agriculturist to obtain the rules and further details, and submit their essays of not more than 1000 words to them. The essays are then judged for the provincial winner for which there is a $25 cash prize. The winning provincial and state essays are then judged for the scholarship prize.

The scholarship is available at time of registration in a recognized agricultural college in courses in Agriculture or Home Economics of the individuals choosing, provided that such courses lead to a degree or diploma. The limit for acceptance of the scholarship award is to a maximum of three years after graduation from high school. The essays must reach the Department of Agriculture office by Oct. 9, so prepare now says Mr. Lobay, you may be happy that you did.

Hazards of Cold Weather Driving

The hazards of cold weather driving can be expected before long and the RCMP have issued a seven-point warning in this respect that should be read carefully and heeded by all drivers:

1. Carbon Monoxide is a colorless, killer. "Check exhaust system for leaks."
2. In city traffic, carbon monoxide is prevalent at all times, so make sure your heating system is not sucking in the fumes from the car in front of you.
3. Keep window open slightly for fresh air, even in cold weather.
4. Clogged tail pipe with snow and ice, can be disastrous.
5. Smooth, worn tires can be dangerous—snow and ice lend no traction.
6. Don't drive blind—keep windows free of snow, frost and ice.
7. Whirling, blowing snow can conceal stalled motor vehicles, etc. Drive cautiously at all times.

Elluk, publicity convener.

The program for the evening consisted of group discussions on topics from the 1959 convention. Discussion on percentile grading was held by Mr. Truss and on grade nine passing standards was led by Mrs. Ball.

An invitation to members of other Home and School Associations and other interested persons was extended for the November meeting.

Rev. T. Northrup, 4th vice-president of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Association will be the guest speaker.

Richardson-Gould Celebrating 25th Year In Business

Richardson & Gould Ltd., of Vulcan and Lethbridge are, this week-end, celebrating their 25th year in the automotive business, tying in with the official opening of the newly completed additions to their Vulcan garage.

Enlarging their premises by 2,500 square feet, the new additions house a large showroom, offices and rest rooms, extra parts space and the lubrication and car wash facilities.

Congratulatory ads and stories and pictures, tracing the progress of the firm from its start at Nanton in 1935, occupy five pages of this issue of the Advocate. An additional 600 copies have been printed this week to be distributed in the Nanton district, where Richardson & Gould Ltd., still have many good friends and customers, making a total press run of over 3,300 copies of this week's 16-page paper.

Strong Prices At Auction Mart

Last Saturday's sale at the High River Auction Mart saw buyers display lively interest in the 264 pigs and 242 cattle going through the ring. Good steers brought up to $25.70 per cwt. with heifers up to $22.25 and cows $17.00. Range cows sold to $18.50. Steer calves brought up to $26.10 and heifer calves to $24.00. Weaner pigs sold from $3.75 to $7.00 apiece. Feeder pigs from $8.00 to $19.25 and sows from $39.00 to $45.00.

Some paper is still made from rags, but 98% of Canadian paper is made from wood.

Extra "Smell" Added

Change-over To Natural Gas Made Wednesday

Wednesday of this week was G-day in Vulcan, as natural gas was turned into the existing distribution lines by Canadian Western Natural Gas Company crews under the direction of Frank Patterson, Lethbridge district manager.

Starting early Wednesday morning, replacement of the air-mix propane with natural gas was done in stages—one section of the town at a time—with householders in each section being without gas for only 15 or 20 minutes as the switchover was made. Furnaces, appliances and lines were checked and double-checked by Canadian Western workmen as the natural gas was turned into each section of town and by mid-afternoon the 190 former users of air-propane were using natural gas.

In order to make sure that any leaks in pipes or connections are quickly detected, additional "odor" is being added to the natural gas for the first few days of operation. Mr. Patterson informed the Advocate on Tuesday. This extra strong odor may even be noticeable the first day or two as the gas is being burned, said Mr. Patterson, but the "smell content" of the gas will be reduced to normal as soon as the company is sure that any and all leaks have been detected and corrected. Inasmuch as the air-mix propane has only been under 4½ lbs. pressure as compared to the normal 15 lbs. pressure for natural gas, it is extremely important that any leaks or faulty connections be detected as soon as possible, therefore the reason for the extra "smell" being added during the first few days of operation.

Meters were re-set on Wednesday for the final time by Central Gas (Vulcan) Ltd. The much lower rates of Canadian Western went into effect at the same time.

First place to be switched to natural gas Wednesday morning was the hospital.

A temporary office has been obtained by Canadian Western in the County of Vulcan building and Gas Company personnel will be on duty at this office from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Telephone number is 460. Those wishing natural gas service connections should call at the office and sign an application form.

FWUA Elects New Officers

The monthly meeting of the Berrywater FWUA was held at the home of Mrs. Betty Wickstrom, with 12 members present.

General business was attended to and as many as possible were urged to attend the rally at Arrowwood on Oct. 27. Local radio stations are to be asked to broadcast the FWUA news.

Mrs. Muriel Smith then took over the chair and conducted the annual portion of the meeting and election of officers, who are as follows: President, Mrs. Helma Sharp; vice-president, Mrs. Doris McLean; secretary, Mrs. Betty Wickstrom. Directors: Mrs. Margaret Richardson, Mrs. Lorna Gerding and Mrs. Marguerite Jones. Lunch convener, Mrs. Gertie Oldfield; rest room representative, Mrs. Hazel Smith; library representative, Mrs. Iza Oldfield.

The meeting was adjourned and lunch was served by the hostess and her helpers.

W.I. Will Cater To Nurses' Dance

Mrs. Jack Marshall, with Mrs. Earl Deal and Mrs. John French as co-hostesses, entertained the October meeting of the Reid Hill W.I., Thursday, Oct. 8, at the Marshall home.

Mrs. Deal, the president, was in the chair and conducted the meeting assisted by the secretary, Mrs. Fred Schuler. Seventeen members and two visitors answered roll call with a current event, which proved quite interesting.

Correspondence included a request from the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion for an order for a Remembrance Day poppy wreath, which was favorably received and the usual order given. The sum of $25 was voted the Vulcan and District Memorial Swimming Pool and also $10 to the Unitarian Services of Canada.

In response to a query from the Nurses' Organization for the branch to cater to their first annual Christmas social evening, to be held December 28, it was decided to do this and a committee named.

Mrs. C. Love, the constituency convener briefly pointed out changes in the new handbook of the WI and described certain rules governing annual meetings and other points of interest. She also mentioned china cups and saucers now available with the WI crest and colors. An order for one dozen of these was to be sent in.

Birthday gifts were presented to members whose birthdays are this month, namely Mrs. Agnes McKay, Mrs. J. Marshall, Mrs. R. Harold, Mrs. E. Walker, Mrs. F. South, Mrs. E. Deal and Mrs. D. French. All joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to the honored members.

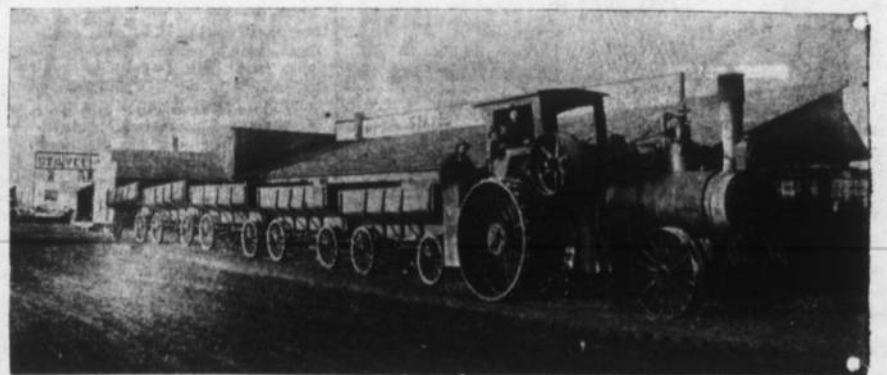

Two interesting contests arranged by Mrs. Harold were won by Mrs. J. Douglas, Mrs. E. G. McPherson, Mrs. Peter McIntyre and Mrs. C. L. Kuykendall. The tea draw was won by Mrs. Frieda McRoberts, after which a delicious Thanksgiving dinner was served by the hostesses.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

On Saturday, Oct. 10, some 40 friends of Mrs. Johnny Titting, (nee Olga Hlookoff) gathered at the Berrywater community centre, for a nice miscellaneous shower.

The afternoon was spent in contests and visiting, the highlight of the program was when Mrs. Helma Sharp presented Olga with a model switch-board, loaded with many useful and lovely gifts. The bride was assisted in opening the colorfully wrapped parcels by her mother, Mrs. N. Hlookoff and by her sister, Anne. Later the guest of honor very graciously thanked her friends for their kind wishes and lovely gifts.

A dainty lunch was served by the ladies of the community.

Can Still Be Hopeful

Completion of harvest this fall in Saskatchewan and Manitoba appears to "written off," according to reports of grain companies. But in this part of Southern Alberta, where the snowfall (at time of writing) has been very light, there is still hope for enough warm weather to clear off the snow and dry the grain sufficiently to allow harvesting operations to resume.

North of Vulcan, most of the wheat is still in the swath. Most of the flax crop still remains to be harvested, too, and farmers are particularly anxious to get this "cash crop" off, as the price is over $3.00 a bushel and a five-bushel delivery quota is in effect, with prospects good for additional quotas.

Expansion

It's nice to see local business firms expanding—it's one sign of healthy business growth in any community. We join this week in extending congratulations to Richardson & Gould Ltd., on the completion of additions to their garage. Theirs has been a story of steady growth—from the two partners alone in 1935 at Nanton to a total staff of 22 at Vulcan and Lethbridge today.

The farming economy of this part of Southern Alberta has made a remarkable recovery from the years when slim wheat quotas in an almost straight wheat growing area made money scarce. Diversification of crops and a decided increase in livestock production has put farming on a more even keel and expansion of business to meet the increased demand for goods and services follows naturally.

We hope the trend continues, not only in Vulcan but in the villages throughout the county.

An Old Idea Revived

The idea that price supports for farm products are all wrong and that farm prices should be set on the free market keeps cropping up from time to time. Last week Dr. Cecil Haver, an economist at McGill University, said that Canada should abandon the "planned economy" and return to the free market. The flight from the free market, he said, may result in less freedom and possibly lower income for the farmer. Government regulations result in inefficient use of resources, he is reported to have stated.

The professor's idea might be fine if other groups in the economy were willing to do like-wise, but this is not likely. Manufacturers would not sit idly by while protective tariffs are removed, labor certainly would not agree to forgo its bargaining power, the professions are unlikely to disband their associations through which fees are regulated and licenses controlled, and big business would not like interference in its operations.

As long as there are tariffs, patents, labor unions, professional associations and monopolistic businesses there can be no true free markets in this country. Why then should farmers be expected to operate under an entirely different set of rules than other Canadians? Or for that matter, why should Canadian farmers be placed at the mercy of an unrestricted open market in competition with farmers in other countries who are producing in protected markets will all the benefits of price supports and production incentives?

World of Wheat

Argentina's Wheat Trade

A Commentary

The recent publication of details with respect to Argentina's 1958-59 wheat exports serves to remind us of the keen competition that is being experienced in the world wheat market today.

With the harvesting of a much better crop in 1958 than in the previous year Argentine exported during the past season, no less than 105 million bushels of wheat. The figure is higher than for several years past although this country did, on occasion, some years ago, export as much as 180 million bushels in a single season.

More interesting perhaps than the total exported is the disposition that was made to various countries, of which are good customers of Canada or have been good customers in the past. One interesting feature is that the United Kingdom, in 1958-59, resumed her place as Europe's principal buyer of Plate wheat. The total purchased, however, was still less than a fifth of what the United Kingdom buys annually from Canada.

Taking more than 50 per cent of Argentina's wheat was Brazil to whom Canada has exported no wheat during the past five years although it may be recalled that during the period of 1951 to 1954 an average of 7.5 million bushels of Canadian wheat was shipped to that country.

This year, last minute attempts to interest Argentina's producers in growing wheat by changing the fixed price to a minimum price and by allowing free sales of wheat above the minimum apparently did not succeed in influencing growers' plans very much. First official estimates suggest that some 2 1/2 million fewer acres of new crop were recently seeded and if this is so, Argentina will not have the same quantity of wheat to offer for export in 1960.

Richardson & Gould Ltd. Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Business Started in Nanton--- Opened at Vulcan in 1950

In 1935 two farm boys, Bill and Lawrence Richardson, came to the Nanton district to pick up some harvest wages. Things at home near Alask, Sask., had been bad for five years, it being the "dirty thirties" on the Goose Lake line, and they had to come to South Western Alberta to find any harvesting. The other reason for coming to this district was that Bill was born on the Henry Pearce land by the Vulcan Airport, his father's homestead, and also that most of the Wannop family, their uncles and aunts, still lived around the Nanton district.

Being disgusted with farming in Saskatchewan, after five successive crop failures, they were determined to change occupations so had their sights on the west coast. After finishing a short harvest season they didn't have enough money, so looked around the Nanton district and Calgary for jobs. About that time a job couldn't be bought so they had visions of having to return to their father's farm. This outlook on the future, drove them to trying anything to stay in Southern Alberta. Finally in February of 1936 they rented a small service station on the south side of Nanton from a Mr. Stollies. They say that this was a big moment in their lives. They owned a business but little did they realize what tough times and problems were ahead of them. The first day's business totaled a full 35c for one quart of oil and the second was a booming day, totaling 3.71. In fact it was the best for several weeks.

Their firm now enjoys more business in one day than they did in the first six months when they first went into business.

These two boys, operating their service station for the first three years by themselves, gave 24 hour service and operated the B.A. wholesale gas business also. Many a night there was very little time to sleep. They batched in the back part of the service station which was only an area of 12x12 with the same area in front to do business. Oil changes, tire work, etc., were all done outside. Thanks to the old style of the service stations, a canopy over the pumps at least kept the rain and snow off the working area.

Business kept building up and they, having visions, talked their father into coming into business with them and leaving the farm as he still hadn't produced a crop since they left the farm. In the fall of 1938 with the help of their uncle, John Wannop they constructed a separate building 30x60 on an adjoining two lots, which served as their shop. They took on the dealership of Hudson cars and the next year their business had built up to where they needed more room, so bought the service station property and joined the two buildings together and made one large garage which was operated as Richardson Bros., for 12 years.

When the war came along in 1939 they had quite a good staff but one by one they were called or joined up. In 1941 Lawrence was married and Bill, being still single, decided to join the services. Eventually Lawrence and his father were operating the place themselves so were back to getting along with very little sleep plenty of nights. They got by hiring young fellows just out of or still in school and before they were old enough to join up.

In 1940 Hudson, due to war measures, curtailed building automobiles and only imports could be sold in Canada so the firm took on the Pontiac and Buick contract.

The fall of 1941 they got a chance to obtain the Dodge-DeSoto dealership and have represented Chrysler Corporation ever since. They have, during their quarter century in the automobile business, handled the three car contracts and four different machine agencies and have been offered during this period of time almost every contract available in both automobiles and implements.

Their comment on this is that they like quality merchandise and feel they represent two of the best in Dodge-DeSoto automobiles and J. I. Case line of machinery.

Bill got his discharge from the Airforce in 1945 and before the summer was over he and Lawrence were at it again planning new premises as the old building was inadequate. Their father was thinking of retiring so eventually that fall Cliff Gould, who was with B.A. Oil Co., at Nanton since 1940, bought out Mr. Richardson, Sr. He was a good friend of the family and had helped Lawrence and his father out tremendously through the war years in his spare time. As they recall the incident it was a very fast and profitable deal for all concerned and was made in a matter of minutes. The boys say they could never have had a better partner and during their 13 years of business association never had an argument and are still the best of friends. In fact at this point it can be said that Lawrence and Bill after 24 years in business still have their first fight to occur — they say they are getting too old and slow now to bother.

In 1949 the firm was formed into a limited liability company and has since been registered as Richardson & Gould Ltd. They went into farming as a side line in 1948 and farmed at Kitscoty and Rosebud, Alta., then later farmed C. M. Allen's land at Vulcan for three years. But now they are completely out of the farming game and are concentrating only on giving the best of service to all their automobile and truck and farm machinery customers.

In 1950 the firm traded Allen and Bride their farm at Rosebud for the present garage at Vulcan and so the two garages were operated, one at Nanton and other here at Vulcan, for the next three years. Then the Nanton garage was sold and Lawrence came to help operate the Vulcan garage rooms and additional parts stockroom to the left. The two doors at the extreme right lead to the new lubrication addition and the wash rack. The new additions add an extra 2500 feet of floor space to the old building. To the left of the show room is located one of Southern Alberta's most modern used car lots. Across the street from it the firm will display their farm machinery and truck line.

Thank You Kindly!

- We feel proud today to have been so fortunately favored by having so many wonderful customers during the past quarter-century.
- We have built these additions to our garage so we can give you better service in the future as a continuous thank-you.

VULCAN - PHONE 19 J. I. CASE MACHINERY

This Is Where It Started

THE ABOVE is the original Service Station that the two brothers started 24 years ago. It was then known as the Blue Line Service Station evidently named after the highway at that time. It was 24 ft. x 12 ft., and was their pride and joy for a few years, being their home and place of business. The service went around the clock for the first two or three years. Before these premises were helped out by the new addition it did a tremendous business per square foot of floor space. You will notice the five trees in front of the service station, also a rock garden was kept up right by the highway. In later years both rock garden and trees were taken out.

History of Firm

and Cliff concentrated on the farming operation. By 1955, George, the boys' younger brother, was becoming more acquainted with the business so he went to Lethbridge to help Lawrence set up a used car lot for the firm. In 1957 George came back to Vulcan to help take over the responsibilities and in November of 1958 he bought out Cliff Gould's interest in the firm and is now handling the service problems of the firm's customers and also is the secretary-treasurer of the firm.

Richardson & Gould Ltd., took the J. I. Case contract over from Chester Rea in 1951 but never did much about it because they felt that they didn't have the building facilities to handle it properly. However, with their new large additions to the garage this year, plans were made to provide these facilities and with a larger staff they are now in a position to handle the farm implement business without interfering with their large automobile business.

This firm has grown during the past 24 years from its two owners to a present staff of 22. When asked what was their secret to success, their answer was "only by treating our customers as we would like to be treated ourselves," and thanks to all their wonderful customers of the past quarter of a century.

Pictures By John Haydamack

All new pictures in this special Richardson & Gould Ltd. section and enlargements of old snapshots are the work of John Haydamack of Vulcan and his co-operation in meeting necessary deadlines has been much appreciated.

A little push will perform more miracles than any amount of pull.

Talk is never cheap when you have to take some of it back.

Were Younger Then

THIS IS A picture taken about the time Lawrence and Bill started in business. They were single at that time and batched in the back part of the service station. Giving 24-hour service didn't allow them any time for chasing girls, however they must have found time later on. You will notice that Lawrence only weighed in at about 140 lbs. in those days. Bill just got older.

Today's youngsters don't leave footprints on the sands of time — just tire tracks.

Trouble that looks like a mountain from a distance, usually is only a hill when you get to it.

The New Valiant

Now we know how a family feels when it's expecting a baby. We never knew we had so many interested neighbors. Truth to tell, we're quite excited ourselves.

The Valiant is engineered by Chrysler Corporation as a nimble-footed answer to today's crowded streets, roads and parking spaces, with all the thrifty habits of its little cousins from overseas.

It proves a car doesn't have to be big to be roomy nor too small for an American-size family to deliver 30 miles or better on a gallon of gas.

Here's a car four feet six inches high and two feet shorter than current popular-priced cars that'll carry six adults in comfort, along with all their luggage for a week-end trip.

Here's a radically new 6-cylinder engine that can keep up with turnpike traffic without breathing hard, and still ignore gas stations like an undersize import.

The Valiant has a clean, lean $6,000 look. When you park it in the driveway, the neighbors are going to think you've come into money, but the Valiant will deliver in the $2,800 price range.

The whole design is so perfectly in scale it has none of the abbreviated or small-car look of the so-called "compact cars." It will come both in four-door sedans and big, roomy station wagons.

Well Known Products Handled

Well known, dependable lines are handled by Richardson & Gould Ltd., Dodge, DeSoto and Valiant cars, Dodge trucks, J. I. Case farm machinery, Texaco gasoline, oils and greases, Mayrath loaders and Goodyear tires and tubes are all highly rated and meet with good public acceptance.

A firm belief in the virtues of the products they sell has contributed in no small measure to the success of their steadily expanding business.

Bigger in 1939

THIS IS AFTER the second addition was built in 1939 and the two buildings were joined into one after purchasing the original service station. The canopy was removed and a store front built across the completed buildings.

You will see that the trees and rock garden are still in front. This building was used from 1939 until 1945. The staff was as high as eight but for part of the war years was down to only Lawrence and his father and the help of Cliff Gould in his off hours. Lawrence had installed a vulcanizer machine during the war years and between it, mechanical work and welding, sometimes never did see his bed before another day started. Lawrence, by the way, still holds his first-class mechanical and welding licenses.

Nanton Premises in 1945

A SHOT OF the new garage built in 1945 in Nanton. It was just across the street from the old garage which was converted into a body shop and operated by the firm. This was the headquarters of the firm from 1945 to 1953 when it was sold and Vulcan became the centre of activities. The boys say that Vulcan being more of a growing centre and being the County seat induced them to make this town their centre of business.

However Nanton district will always hold a soft spot in their hearts and they are very grateful to their Nanton friends and customers for the many pleasant years and dealings and of course they still are favored with business from the Nanton district. The above garage was of the boys' own design and they were always very proud of it. Each type of service had its own door which prevented some of the bottlenecks which occur at a one-door garage. Cliff Gould was with the firm by the time it was built and the three boys did a lot of overtime work helping in the construction of this building. You will notice it was still called Richardson Bros. The firm name wasn't changed until 1949 when it became a Company. The fellow with money to burn seldom sits by the fire. How about putting a little sunshine away for a rainy day?

Nine Trucks In One Deal

TO DATE the truck deal with the County of Vulcan in 1958 for eight Dodge D700 4-ton trucks and one Dodge 1/2-ton was the largest individual deal the firm has ever made, roughly fifty thousand dollars. This is a view of the trucks being checked at factory prior to drive away.

Firm's Biggest Machinery Deal

THIS FALL the firm sold C. W. Loose three Case 1000 Combines and three model 720 Swathers, which constituted the largest farm machinery deal made during the 25 years of business.

Vulcan Premises Before Additions

THIS is a snap-shot of the Vulcan garage as it has been since purchasing it in June 1950. The firm of Richardson & Gould Ltd., purchased this property from Allen & Bride and it was closed for a period of six weeks for interior and exterior alterations. The shop at that time was only four years old but the front was an old part of a service station. The canopy was taken down at this time and the large windows installed to match the new part of building. It has served very well but the past few years had become inadequate for the volume of business the firm enjoys.

Three Richardson Brothers In Firm

President and General Manager

W. H. (BILL) RICHARDSON

Born Feb. 22, 1912, in the Vulcan district, Bill lived in Saskatoon for several years before starting in business at Nanton in 1935. He joined the RCAF in 1941 and was an instructor at Winnipeg for two years before receiving his discharge in 1945, when he returned to Nanton. He was married at Winnipeg in 1943. After the war, Bill became active in community affairs at Nanton, serving on the town council and as secretary of the Nanton branch, Canadian Legion. He moved to Vulcan in August, 1950, and has continued his interest in community affairs, being a past president of the Lions Club, past president of the Board of Trade and has just retired from the town council after four years of service. He is a member of the Vulcan Masonic Lodge, the Lethbridge Lodge of Perfection, the Calgary Shrine, the Curling Club and the Golf & Country Club, and is on the Board of Stewards of the Vulcan United Church. Bill and his wife Bea have four daughters and one son.

Vice-President and Sales Manager

J. LAWRENCE RICHARDSON

Born at Alsask, Sask., Oct. 14, 1914, Lawrence came to Nanton in 1935 and moved to Vulcan in 1953, where he served on the town council and was a member of the Lions Club. He moved to Lethbridge in 1955 and now operates the R & G Car Sales in that city. He is a member of the Nanton Masonic Lodge and the Lethbridge Lions Club. Married in 1938, Lawrence and his wife Vi have one son and two daughters.

Growth of Firm Marked By New Building Additions

The new wing to the Richardson & Gould garage housing the showroom also contains Bill's private office, a second private office for use of the sales staff and men's and ladies' rest rooms.

The showroom is paneled in Japanese mahogany, with acoustic tile ceiling and fluorescent lighting. The 54-ft. front is entirely of plate glass and floor space is sufficient to display two of the largest cars at the same time.

Immediately next to the showroom is the new and used car display lot, with 125 ft. street frontage. A new neon sign two strings of light front this display lot, making it bright even at night. Right across the street from this new lot is the old used car lot, also with a frontage of 125 ft., which will now be used for displaying trucks and farm machinery.

The second wing built this year houses the lubrication department and the facilities for washing and steaming cars, making these services completely self-contained.

Heating of the new additions is by natural gas.

General construction of both new wings was under the supervision of Ole Haugejorde of Calgary, with all concrete block laying and cement work being done by Wiersma Construction of Vulcan. All building materials were supplied by Beaver Lumber of

NEW SHOWROOM

THIS IS A VIEW of the new show room as seen from the street. It has ample room for two of the largest automobiles and is finished in the most modern design and color scheme.

It is fronted by 56 feet of plate glass windows. The offices and rest rooms are along the back of the show room. There is no small town in Alberta which can boast of a show room of this calibre. The Vulcan, decorating materials came from the Vulcan Supply Co., and Vulcan Electric Co., supplied the fixtures and did all the electrical wiring.

Shop Enlarged

Moving of the lubrication and car washing facilities to their new quarters has made more room available in the shop, which will now accommodate seven cars or trucks in stalls at one time. Shop facilities have been improved by the installation of a second hoist — a new twin-post hoist that leaves the car clear underneath for working on the exhaust system or transmission, etc.

Parts Space Tripled

The new construction and renovations at the garage have allowed the addition of 800 square feet of stock room space, to give a total stock room space of 1,200 square feet for car, truck and machinery parts.

Inter-com System

Expansion of the garage to its present size has led to the installation of a complete inter-communication system between all departments. Three telephones on two separate lines are also in use.

As part of the building and renovation program this year, the older part of the garage has received a complete new paint job on the interior, which greatly improves its appearance.

THE BIG SWITCH TO CASE

Richardson & Gould are trading "big" to make it easy for you to switch to Case and to own a dramatically different, years-ahead Case-O-Matic or standard Case tractor. A tractor that will cut hours from your work, cut dollars from your operating costs.

Before you buy, try or drive any tractor, try and compare a sparkling, brand new Case. No matter which size or model you select, you'll find the power, the rugged strength, the stamina and year in, year out dependability and economy you want. And, what is more important, you'll find all this at a price you will want to pay.

For the big tractor buy of the year, see Richardson & Gould, your Case dealers, today!

ALLOCATION OF BOX CARS TO HANDLE THIS FALL'S GRAIN WILL BE CHANGED

Allocation of box cars to handle this fall's grain crop will be changed in accordance with recommendations made by the Bracken Commission. To keep elevators at a given point competitive, out-of-turn cars will be provided to elevators which become plugged. An elevator will be considered plugged when it has less than 4000 bushels of space and does not have space to take kinds or grades of grain offered.

When an elevator becomes plugged, the agent may apply for two out-of-turn cars.

The success of the changes will, to some extent, be dependent upon establishing adequate controls to see that privilege of out-of-turn cars is not abused, for it can be anticipated that there will be many interpretations of a "plugged" elevator.

The wheat board will continue to issue shipping orders to elevator companies in accordance with the formula used in the 1958-59 crop season. This formula will be revised from time to time, based on actual handlings of each organization. The Bracken report, in fact, suggested a monthly revision.

The grain elevators will issue orders to their individual elevators where space is considered adequate. It has also stated that the railways may defer supplying cars to an elevator when there is a likelihood of there being an undue delay in unloading the grain.

It is hoped that with a periodic revision of the formula and the new provision for giving extra cars to plugged elevators, eventually it will be possible for every producer to deliver to the elevator of his choice.

And God remembered Noah, and every living thing, —

—Genesis 8:1

Every living thing — even the most insignificant creature in the ark with Noah — was cared for and remembered. And eventually all, even the very least, "went forth out of the ark"

—Genesis 8:19

Can we think that "God who spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all" (Romans 8:32) will ever cease to remember the need of any child of His? Having remembered us at such a cost, He will surely not withhold anything that He knows to be for our real good.

Our Father remembers the sparrow,

Their value and fall He doth see;

But dearer to Him are His children,

And He'll never forget to keep me.

Pulpwood Operations Provide Big Farm Market

13 million lbs meal,
19 million eggs in annual woods fare.

Fruit juice, flap jacks, porridge, fried potatoes, sausages, bacon and eggs, doughnuts, pie, milk, and coffee — that's typical breakfast fare for rugged pulpwood loggers whose appetites spell a big market for Canadian farm produce.

Each year, for their woodworkers alone, the pulp and paper mills buy 13 million pounds of meat, 19 million eggs, 10 million pounds of flour, 3.5 million pounds of butter and other fats, 3 million cases of canned milk, 400,000 cases of other canned goods, and 6.5 million pounds of powdered milk and dry foods.

There are 15,000 permanent employees in the pulp and paper woodlands. In addition, some 200,000 agricultural and other workers help gather the pulpwood harvest in their off-season. All are hearty eaters.

The forests, like the farms, are traditional mainstays in the Canadian economy and, in many areas, agriculture and forest operations go together. Both are managed to yield annual crops. Trees, just like a farm crop, must be tended and protected. When the crop is mature it must be harvested.

Pulp and paper foresters practice silviculture just as farmers practice agriculture. In short, they cultivate the forests. This is more than a mere conservation and protection program. It is creative. Regeneration is encouraged and young growth is tended. And the annual growth exceeds the yearly crop. Thus, through continuing and overlapping cycles of natural reseedling, growing, and harvesting, the forests are maintained to provide annual crops for ever.

Pulp and paper woodworkers (top) are hearty eaters. Dinner features soup, at least two meat dishes, vegetables, salads, and plenty of sweet buns, pies, cake, milk, and steaming coffee. The men in the bush eat well on Canadian produce. (Bottom) A forester checks soil samples around young jackpine in a tree farm. Photo by Malak

BULB PLANTING TIME

A wide selection of bulbs have now arrived in the local stores and now is the time to plant says P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture in Alberta. For indoor culture: Plant in good quality garden soil. Cover all but the top ¼" of the bulb. Firm soil well and leave a space of about ¼" for watering. Water and store in a dark place at a temperature of 40-45 degrees F. Root making will soon begin so do not disturb except for rare watering. Excessive watering may rot the bulb. After 8 to 10 weeks bring bulbs into light gradually, first putting them in a warmer place for a few days. If bulbs are brought up a few at a time a continuous blooming can be achieved.

For outside planting: Under most Alberta conditions tulips, narcissi and scillas are the only bulbs that will perform consistently well. While crocus and grape hyacinths have been grown successfully in some cases, they are not recommended for general planting. Set the bulbs in the ground before freezeup, a well drained loamy soil will give best results. Single early tulips should be planted from 1 to 6 inches deep. Taller growing species like the Darwins should be planted from 6 to 8 inches deep. For narcissi 8 to 11 inches is the planting depth. The bulb should rest on firm soil and the earth packed well around the entire bulb. After the first stiff frost, apply a mulch of clean straw or evergreen boughs over the tulip planting to prevent heaving of the soil and too early growth in the spring. Avoid planting close to foundations particularly those which face south or west.

More detailed information will be found in the recently issued circular by Alberta Department of Agriculture "Spring Flowering Bulbs for the Prairies" which may be obtained from Extension Service or District Agriculturists in your area.

Announcing the new Plymouth

Solid comfort! Solid performance! Solid safety! Solid beauty! You'll find them all in this 1960 Plymouth, with rustproof and rattleproof Unibody, new inclined overhead-valve six-cylinder engine, and a whole car-full of other solid improvements new to the low-price field!

Here is a car with new Unibody construction that eliminates body bolts to give you a more solid, quieter ride than ever!

Here is a car that features the most complete rustproofing treatment in the entire automobile industry!

Here is a car that delivers up to 50 extra miles on every tank of gas, with a completely new kind of overhead-valve six-cylinder engine inclined like modern racing engines.

There's not a bolt in this Plymouth Unibody to spoil the solid quiet of your Plymouth ride. Body, frame, crossmembers and panels are all one solid piece of steel. Every Unibody is dipped seven times to prevent rust.

Not a bolt in the body

No car in Plymouth's class was ever built like this before. New "bridge truss" Unibody makes the difference.

The Plymouth structure is all one piece—frame, body, crossmembers and exterior panels—without a body bolt in it to spoil the solid silence of your Plymouth ride.

Unibody is one and one-half times stronger, end to end, than conventional types. It is four times as durable.

Most comprehensive rust-proofing of any car—ever

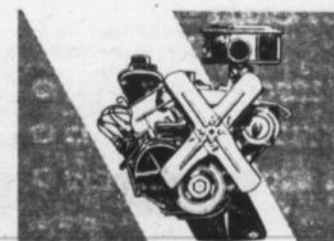

Not only is your Plymouth built to withstand wear and road punishment; it's designed to resist the ravages of weather, too. For this year, Plymouth introduces a completely new rustproofing process, more comprehensive than any rust preventive treatment ever known to the auto industry.

Unibody is dipped a full seven times to protect it for years to come!

New Six... new savings!

Just lift the hood on a Plymouth 30-D Economy Six. You'll see a totally new kind of engine as revolutionary in the way it looks as it is in the way it saves and performs.

It's inclined to the side—just like modern racing engines—at an angle of

Plymouth's new overhead-valve, six-cylinder engine inclined 30 degrees, delivers up to 50 extra miles per tankful! (Plymouth V-8's are money-savers, too!)

30 degrees. This permits a straight air intake with no elbows or angles to impede engine breathing. And even more important, inclining the engine allows Plymouth to introduce a straight-line, individual-cylinder manifold system that feeds the right diet of gas to each cylinder independently.

Plymouth makes the big changes the others overlooked

You've only begun to learn about Plymouth for 1960. Here are automatic door locks that lock all doors at the flick of a switch. Here are automatic swivel seats and a high-back Command seat for the driver. And here are Plymouth's own Torsion-Aire Ride, push-button drive, Total-Contact brakes—all improved for 1960.

But why not see for yourself? Your Plymouth dealer has a new Plymouth awaiting your trial and inspection right now. Visit him today.

CARMANGAY

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Nelson were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nelson in Idaho last week.

Mrs. Wallace Miller of Calgary, David and Bill Miller of Red Deer, were home over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Miss Pat Nugent of Calgary spent the Thanksgiving weekend at home.

Home and School Association
The regular meeting of the Carmangay Home and School Association was held on Thursday evening with about 25 members in attendance.

Mrs. Lydia Anderson and Mrs. E. Dahl were appointed as delegates to attend the Banff workshop. Gordon Pruskey was made chairman to head a committee to conduct a survey on the potential value of television as an educational medium. Dr. Szekely announced on behalf of the recreational board that a survey be made of the community to discover if there is need for the board to become active again. The association decided to dispense with a Halloween party for the kiddies this year.

The program committee had as its topic "Teen-agers and their Problems" and a film entitled "Who is Sylvia" was shown.

The November meeting commences with a bean supper for the members and any others who might be interested in becoming members.

Priscilla Club

The North Priscilla Club met at the home of Martha Nelson on Wednesday afternoon with 12 members present. Roll call was taken and a Thanksgiving verse.

Committees were formed and final plans were made for the Senior Citizens' supper.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Hettie Teskey on Oct. 21. The raffle was won by Mrs. Alice Miller.

CARMANGAY WEST

Miss Myrna Clark of Lethbridge is spending the Thanksgiving holiday at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rob. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ohler entertained the Prairieville Local FUA at their home on Wednesday evening.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Jim Blacklock of Barons and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blacklock and family of the district on the death of their husband and father, Jim Blacklock. Mr. Blacklock passed away very suddenly at his home on his 77th birthday. He was until the last four or five years, a farmer in the district.

Mrs. Sloan of Lethbridge was a guest for the past week at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Faye Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McGinnis, Carol and Colleen motored to Creston to spend the Thanksgiving weekend with the former's parents.

LOMOND

Frank Chow was a visitor in Lethbridge on Wednesday of last week.

Donnie Chow who is attending the Lethbridge College spent the long weekend at his home in Lomond.

Robert Weins of Scapa was a recent weekend visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ruppert.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson and family of Berrywater were Sunday visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ruppert were visitors in Calgary last Monday where Pete was attending a meeting of the Massey-Harris Implement Dealers.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Ost and little daughters were visitors in Vulcan on Thursday of last week.

Farewell Party

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hoffman held a farewell party for them in the Lomond Community Hall on Thursday evening, Oct. 8. A very pleasant evening was spent playing cards after which a sing song was held. Mr. and Mrs. Alec Fraser, Miss Loretta Teasdale and Jack Sukeroff entertained with singing a number of solos and playing the piano and guitar.

Mrs. Hoffman was presented with a gift by Mrs. Janet Skeith, president of the St. John's Anglican Guild, in appreciation of her many years work in the guild. Alec Fraser then presented Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman with a purse expressing the sincere good wishes of their many friends to which Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman very suitably replied and extended a hearty invitation for people to visit them at their home in British Columbia.

Community Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Lomond Community Club was held on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 1, at the home of Mrs. Paul Ost, Sr. There were 14 members and three visitors present. Roll call was answered with an exchange of pickles and jelly.

A short business meeting followed. A bridal shower for Miss Joyce Cauffield was discussed and it was decided to hold it Wednesday evening, Oct. 28. The raffle draw was held and won by Mrs. Charlotte West.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marion Root on Thursday evening, Nov. 5.

SHOULDICE

Mrs. Evelyn Armstrong left Shouldice Monday to spend two weeks in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tario and family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tario of Calgary on Saturday.

Miss Ella and Helen Leadbeater are home visiting their parents over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Culp and Mervin Williams were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Norton.

About 40 per cent of the harvest on the Blackfoot Reserve has been completed in the Shouldice area.

Introducing 1960 MERCURY TRUCKS the BIG advance in durability

PROVEN ECONOMY: Tests certified Mercury's Short-Stroke Six averaged 25.2% better mileage than all competitive Six engines.

NEW NYLON KING PIN BUSHINGS: Wear longer, require no special tools or line reaming to replace, as do conventional bushings.

IMPROVED ELECTRICAL WIRING: New insulation gives better protection against oil, gas and abrasion—triples electrical reliability.

NEW STRONGER FRAMES: Wider, heavier crossmembers give 23% more frame rigidity on Light Duty models, add to smooth ride.

MORE PROVEN FEATURES! NEW RUGGED STYLE!

Built-in durability has always been a Mercury Truck plus. Now, new improvements throughout offer still greater "stay-on-the-job" might. Under Mercury's modern new styling lie stronger frames that resist torsional strains. Improved springs last longer, provide a better ride. And new electrical wiring gives greater reliability—lasts up to three times longer. On top of this, Mercury's thrifty Six averaged 25.2% better gas mileage in independent tests than the next leading make.

Longer truck life, less downtime and greater gas savings are just a few of the reasons why you should "Work-a-Merc", Six or V-8. See your Mercury Truck dealer soon for all the new and proven features. Certain features illustrated or mentioned are standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

Reclamation of Wasteland

Areas of sub-marginal, non-productive land is a problem of many farmers. These areas are usually a low lying or slough type portion of the farm. They may vary from a few hundred square feet to many acres. Besides being non-productive they are a breeding place for many kinds of noxious weeds, which are a menace to both the farm and the district. Utilization of this ground is difficult because spring flooding is often a problem. Also alkali or a saline condition is very likely to be associated with the high water table.

The best and often the only way to make use of this type of land is to seed it down to grass and utilize the crop as hay or pasture. In preparing the soil for seeding it is necessary to eradicate the weeds and prepare a seedbed. This can be done by spraying with herbicides and with tillage. Because of wet conditions in spring, late summer or fall is often the only time these operations can be done. For this reason it may require several years to create a condition suitable for seeding. Some consideration should be given to the possibility of draining the area first. If this can be done, and the size of the area warrants the expense it may be well worth while.

Alkali land is usually characterized by growth of wild barley — (often erroneously referred to as fox tail). Tall wheat grass is the most alkali tolerant. It is fair pasture but poor hay. Slender wheat and Alta Fescue grass are a bit less alkali tolerant, but usually make better feed.

Where the area is flooded for a period each year, Reed Canary grass is the answer. This grass is probably the best all round crop for low wet soil. For wet areas where prolonged flooding and alkali does not occur Creeping Red Fescue and Timothy can be considered. On higher and dryer parts Brome, Crested Wheat and Russian Wild Rye can be used.

Legumes or grass-legume mixture make better forage for hay and should be used where practical. None of these are particularly tolerant to alkali. Alsike clover is the most tolerant of wet conditions and could be grown with Reed Canary grass on flooded or high water table soils. If spraying for weed control is necessary, the use of legumes will be limited. However, weeds can probably be controlled by mowing after the grass is established.

Certain management practices should be adhered to. Close grazing should be avoided. Mowing after grazing to cut off the old stems is important from the standpoint of regrowth. Most of the grasses will respond timely application of nitrogen fertilizer.

Almost every reclamation or project is a separate problem. The District Agriculturist would be glad to discuss these problems and supply further information on the basis of individuals' conditions.

It's all right to speak straight from the shoulder, providing it originates higher up.
